Holdout Rebels Are Unlikely To Block Passage of Budget

Onondaga Group Still Holds Firm

Rockefeller Plan Due for Vote in Albany Thursday

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—At least six Republican lawmakers, five of them leaders of a party revolt, stood firm today against Gov. Rockefeller's spending and tax plan or a revised version.

It appeared doubtful, however, that they could block passage of the watered-down budget drafted by Republican leaders. The leaders hope to pass the budget next Thursday.

Onondaga County's two senators and three assemblymen said Friday night they had not changed their position on Rockefeller's request for a $2,041,000,000 budget and a boost of 277 million dollars in taxes—150 million from the income tax. They have submitted proposals for budget cuts of 86 million dollars, 46 million more than the GOP leaders have trimmed from the budget.

The members of the Onondaga group are Sens. John H. Hughes and Lawrence M. Rulison and Assemblymen Don Brown, Philip R. Chase and Charles A. Schoeneck Jr.

Joining them in refusing to yield was Assemblyman Paul B. Hanks Jr. of Brockport. He said Friday night he had not changed his position of opposition to the governor's plans.

Some Change Minds

Twenty-eight assemblymen originally refused to approve the trimmed version of the budget. Since then, several Assemblymen were reported to have changed their minds.

Rockefeller and GOP leaders have appealed personally to the rebels.

Another insurgent, GOP Assemblyman J. Eugene Goddard of East Rochester, met privately with Rockefeller Thursday. Later he said he had promised to reconsider his stand—nothing more—and to pass on to other dissidents the governor's views.

Still a Few Short

Goddard said the rebels would be bound by a majority vote at a meeting Monday.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck will need 76 of the 92 Republican votes to assure passage of the Senate version of the budget in the Assembly. The Democratic minority is pledged to vote against it, chiefly because of lowered tax exemptions in the income tax plan.

Heck has conceded he still was "a very few" votes short.

Storm Causes $100,000 Damage in Beacon Area

Weather struck hard in the mid-Hudson valley Friday, particularly in the Beacon area where gusts up to 65 MPH caused heavy damage, and in some sections of Ulster County where heavy rains and melting snows flooded highways.

Damage to the Beacon area was estimated at $100,000.

Lifts Roof from Building

The height of the storm in that section came late Friday morning, lasting for several hours. A large roof on a building housing the mid-Hudson Transportation Co. was lifted and blown about 50 feet, mangling utility wires, smashing a sedan and damaging an oil truck on the north side of Henry Street.

Central Hudson and New York Telephone Company crews worked through the night repairing damage in the Beacon area where winds broke plate glass windows, and blew down chimneys and television antennas.

Freakish March weather plagued the Albany area, a heavy storm struck Columbia County with a deluge of rain falling on Hudson where police reported a number of streets were flooded, and in Greene County melting snows caused minor flooding.

Many Minor Crashes

Mist and fog shrouded many highways, harassing motorists and producing scattered minor crashes.

A four-engine KLM DC-7 airliner was brought down at Albany Airport due to uncertain weather at New York City. The big ship inbound from the Netherlands to New York with 56 passengers, was set down in the capitol city pending abatement of thick weather at Idlewild.

Principal Merton E. Blanchard of the Rondout Valley Central School (Marbletown) reported that classes were dismissed early Friday (2 p. m.) as waters began to flood roads in that section.

Water from rain and melting snows collected on some of the roads as deep as the running-board.

There were several bad spots in the Lomontville area, a washout on the Buck Road half way between the school and Pine Bush and some flooding in the Kyserike area and on a road near Hardenburgh Pond, Stone Ridge.

Blanchard said he was very

22 Are Given Citizenship Oath In Court Friday

Twenty-two applicants granted citizenship Friday afternoon by Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in Naturalization Court were told by Raymond Pitcairn, attorney, that "except for your birth and marriage, this marks the most important milestone in your lives, for today your lives begin as free and equal citizens of the U. S. A.".

The calendar of 22 residents from Ulster and Sullivan Counties was one of the smallest to come before a Naturalization court for many years.

Groups Take Part

Participating in the ceremony which followed admission of the group were representatives of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; members of the Kingston and Saugerties Chapters, Daughters of American Revolution, and members of Kingston High School A Cappella Choir.

Following the examination of the applicants by Justice Elsworth, the oath of allegiance was administered to the newly accepted citizens by Ward B. Tongue, clerk of the court.

With H. Phillips Eighmey, a member of the Kingston High School band acting as bugler, there was presentation of Colors by the Color Guard of Joyce-Schirick Ladies' Auxiliary. Commanding the Guard was Mrs. James Devine. Members were Mrs. Francis Kolts and Mrs. Edward Arnold Jr., with Mrs Ralph Scism as flag bearer and Mrs. Andrew Dykes as banner bearer. Bugler Eighmey sounded "To the Colors".

Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Americanism chairman of Joyce-Schirick Post Auxilary, led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Also present were Mrs. Howard Shultis and Mrs. Jacob Senor.

National Anthem Sung

As part of the impressive ceremonies the National Anthem was sung by members of the Kingston High School a Cappella Choir. Participating were:

Evelyn Peterson and Gloria Costa, sopranos; Sally Brugmann and Dorothy Snell, altos; Larry Hyatt and Vee Quarantino, tenors; Robert Bogart and Fred Barthel, bass.

At the conclusion of Pitcairn's address, the choir sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Mrs. Harry Rigby Jr., of the Kingston Chapter, DAR, presented each new citizen with a small flag and Mrs. Louis Francello of the Saugerties Chapter presented a booklet on the Code of the Flag. At the retirement

Girl Hit by Auto Still Called Serious

Elizabeth Cecelia Derringer, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Marguerite Derringer of Stone Ridge, was reported in "still serious" condition today at Kingston Hospital.

The girl, crossing Route 209 on Wednesday morning to board a school bus, suffered back injuries, state police said, when she was struck by a car operated by Mrs. Gladys Geiselmann, 42, of Rosendale.

Mrs. Geiselmann is scheduled to appear March 10 before Justice of the Peace John L. Smith, town of Marbletown, on a charge of passing a stopped school bus.

Wife of Stewart Airman Is Killed

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Dawn Joan Franklin, 36, wife of a sergeant stationed at Stewart Air Force Base and mother of six small children, was killed Friday in a car accident.

A heavy rainstorm apparently caused her husband, Staff Sgt. Lee Roy Franklin, 31, to lose control of the vehicle while rounding a curve on Route 207 about two miles from the Air Force base. The car smashed into a utility pole.

Franklin received a fractured nose and cuts and bruises.

The couple's children range in age from seven months to 10 years. Franklin has been stationed at the base for the past five years.

Treaty With East Germany to Doom Settlement;Brandt

BERLIN, Germany (AP)—West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said today if the Russians sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany they will ruin chances of a German settlement.

Brandt, just back from a 30,000 mile world trip, commented at a news conference on a statement by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the Soviet Union will sign with East Germany alone if the West does not come to terms.

Brandt said this would block the way to a German solution that could take into account legitimate Soviet security needs.

Upstate Is Hit Hard By Storm

Snow, Winds Even Force Plows Off; Visibility Is Zero

LOWVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Another overnight snowfall draped parts of several counties off Lake Ontario and huge winds curtained the horizon today.

This community of 5,000 persons received 6-8 inches of snow and shouldered winds of 60-70 miles per hour during the night. Visibility was cut to zero this morning.

'Wind Is Awful'

"It's blowing terrible," Sheriff Francis Mangan said. "We've had to take the plows off the roads. The snow seems to be dying down but the wind is awful."

In Albany, the Weather Bureau said the storm covered a rough triangle with Watertown at the apex. A fine, drifting snow extended southeast along Route 12 to Boonville and southwest from Watertown along Route 11 to Pulaski in Oswego County.

Boonville reported 10 more inches of snow at Jackson Hill, a weather station south of the city, bringing the total accumulation on the ground to 55 inches and the season's total to 250 inches.

Motorists Cautioned

About four inches of snow fell in Boonville itself overnight. Most highways in Lewis County were closed and motorists were cautioned to avoid traveling.

Blowing snow also cut visibility in other sections of the state, particularly in the Buffalo area, where 13 auto accidents were blamed on poor visibility and panes of ice covering the roads.

Near Mayville, in Chautauqua County, William Rice, 31, and his sister, Mrs. Joyce Rice Houle, 25, bo[th] of Rochester, were killed last

Week's Business Review

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Reserve cracked down hard on inflation this week as business indicators turned mixed.

In a surprise move, the "Fed" permitted four of the nation's largest Federal Reserve banks to hike their discount rate to three per cent.

This is the interest the Federal Reserve banks charge on loans to commercial banks. It normally sets the pattern for interest rates all along the line. An increase is usually taken to mean that Washington wants to tighten the screws on credit.

Next step, according to those who often make good guesses, may be a rise in the "prime rate" — the interest charged by commercial banks on short-term loans to big borrowers with top credit ratings.

The interest you pay on personal loans is scaled upward from that level.

Backgrounding the federal board's anti-inflation move was a boiling stock market that surged repeatedly to new highs until the board announced its action late Thursday.

This removed some of the inflationary steam. The market sold off sharply Friday morning and a brisk rally in the afternoon recovered some, but not all, of the loss.

Stock sales totaled 21,018,300 shares for the week compared to 16,355,230 shares last week and 10,451,637 shares in the same 1958 week.

Bond sales in the latest week had a par value of $40,306,000 against $27,083,000 in the previous week and $24,334,000 in the corresponding week last year.

Also in the background lay a confusing welter of economic reports — some good, some bad and

Ike Weighing Public Appeal Over Berlin

IKE MEETS WITH CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS—President Eisenhower is shown with congressional leaders of both parties in the White House after he gave them a 90-minute fill-in on the Berlin crisis and received a pledge of united support for his firm stand. Congress Leaders Back Stand

Tension Buildup Could Bring Talk On Understanding

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev are locked in a strange kind of contest—each trying to convince the other his side is united on the issue of Berlin's future.

With Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the sidelines fighting cancer, Eisenhower moved into a more active foreign affairs role. In East Germany, Khrushchev was busy assembling his allies.

Possible Later

Officials said today Eisenhower may make a radio-television appeal for public understanding and support. They said the President does not yet think the situation warrants such a broadcast. But they foresaw it as a possible move if there is a further heightening tension.

Eisenhower's radio-TV adviser, actor-producer Robert Montgomery, was at the White House Friday and Thursday. Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said this was coincidental and the President has no present plans for a broadcast.

Takes Other Steps

But Eisenhower was taking other well-publicized steps.

He met for 90 minutes at the White House Friday with the four top Republican and Democratic leaders in Congress. He followed that up with a White House session with eight other key Republican and Democratic members of Congress.

A proclamation of complete bipartisan support came from the four top leaders—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, both of Texas, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Republican Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Squarely Behind Policy

They all said they are four square behind Eisenhower's policy of standing firm against Soviet efforts to oust the Allies from Ber-

Khrushchev May Invite Satellites in Treaty

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has dropped a hint that he may invite Poland and Czechoslovakia to join the Soviet Union in signing a peace treaty with East Germany.

Blowing hot and cold, the ebullient Soviet leader let leak the suggestion that this may be his maneuver in his pressure campaign against the West.

The Soviets are demanding an all-German treaty that would, in effect, still leave two Germanys to counter Western proposals for reunification of the country.

Bouncing around exuding confidence since arriving here on Wednesday, Khrushchev has given the impression that he feels he is making headway in the war of nerves on Germany—and particularly Berlin.

Today he leaves for East Berlin with indications he may be about to set another diplomatic timebomb.

May Meet in Berlin

East German Communist Premier Otto Grotewohl said Friday night that it was "very possible" Polish Communist Boss Wladyslaw Gomulka and Czech President and party boss Antonin Novotny would confer with Khrushchev in Berlin.

This morning, however, Grotewohl's press chief Kurt Blecha said he had no information to give.

Khrushchev is due to address a labor conference in Leipzig this afternoon and leave by train this evening for East Berlin.

There was speculation that Kruschev would remain in Berlin over the weekend, especially if Golmulk and Novotny show up.

Presumably, the four Communist nations will discuss going ahead with a separate peace treaty for East Germany should the West refuse to bow to terms laid down by the Kremlin for a pact covering all Germany.

Khrushchev has clearly linked the Berlin crisis with conclusion of a German peace treaty. Still hanging over as a threat to peace is his warning that the Soviet Union would turn over to the East Germans control of Allied routes to West Berlin.

Teen-Age Beauty Faces Charge of Robbery at Bank

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A bold, teen-age beauty, wrestled off a bus in the middle of the desert, has been charged with robbing a Las Vegas bank of $1,761.

The FBI said Ida Belle Ingram, 19, blonde and belligerent, is the youngest bank robber they've had to deal with. Certainly, she's the prettiest.

Draws Admiring Glances

The girl, a former bank teller in Washington, D.C., drew a trail of admiring glances as she strode into a downtown Las Vegas bank Friday. So when teller Mary Herring, 21, announced moments later that she had been robbed, police had numerous descriptions to go by.

"A beautiful champagne blonde, really a knockout," was the way Miss Herring described the girl who had handed her a note demanding $8,000 and told the teller she was covered by a gun.

"A gorgeous girl," said nightclub singer Shirley Scott, in the bank at the time.

"White, American female, champagne blonde, 5 feet 6, extremely good looking," said the police broadcast.

Good Looks Are Key

Alert detectives found that Miss Ingram had taken a cab to the

Car Found; Probes Are Continuing

A car stolen from a local automobile agency in one of three overnight burglaries reported to police yesterday was found on a mid-town street early Friday evening.

Officers Charles McCullough and Albert Hutton of the police department's detective division reported they had recovered a 1957 Oldsmobile sedan which was stolen when the Jerry Martin Pontiac, Inc., garage, 708 Broadway, was entered some time during Thursday night.

Still Checking Burglaries

The officers reported the car was found on Pine Street near Franklin Street.

Still under investigation today were burglaries reported at the uptown office of The Freeman, 239 Fair Street where $11.40 in cash was taken and the Howard R. St. John, Inc., insurance office, 48 Main Street, which was ransacked, but nothing was reported missing.

The forman's office, shop and parts department of the Pontiac agency were entered and an unknown amount of petty cash was taken from a cash register. Desk drawers and some tool drawers had been opened.

The Freeman office was entered through a window, the office ransacked and the money was taken from a cash drawer.

Entrance to the insurance office also was gained through a rear window.

Safe Checks Continue

Recent safe thefts also are under investigation by the detective division. Theft of a safe containing between $80 and $90 from School No. 4, lower Delaware Avenue, was reported Thursday, and an unopened safe containing $300 in cash and checks was taken Feb. 16 from Lynch Auto Parts building, 39 St. James Street. The latter was found in a wooded area at Eddyville the next day.

The sheriff's office is still investigating the theft of a safe owned by John Weslowski from a trailer in South Rondout Feb. 27. It weighed 100 pounds, contained $110 in cash, and jewelry, and was found last Saturday off Linderman Avenue Extension.

Guild, St. Louis Globe Talks Fail

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Negotiations in the 15-day-old strike of the St. Louis Newspaper Guild against the Globe-Democrat broke up Friday night and no new meeting was scheduled.

The Guild struck over a demand for a guaranteed, funded pension plan.

Blaze Wipes Out Michigan Family

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — A family of six was killed early today when a smouldering fire filled their small East Side Flint home with dense smoke.

Police said Richard Pelch, 29, his wife, Audrey, 24, and their children, Diane 8, Carol 7, Richard 5 and James 3 suffocated in the dense smoke which filled their four - room, single - story frame home. None of the bodies were burned.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette in an overstuffed chair in the living room. They said the flames smouldered for a long time, filling the house with dense smoke. It also burned a hole in the floor beneath the chair. But damage to the house was relatively minor, firemen said.

The fire was discovered at 3:50 a.m., by neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pitts. They were awakened by the smell of smoke. The couple called the fire department and then made a futile attempt to awaken the Pelch family.

Pelch was a part-time mechanic at a local trucking firm. He got the job only a few weeks ago after recovering from a broken leg suffered a year ago.

Ridge Church Urges Tough Policy on School Bus Law

St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Stone Ridge at a vestry meeting this week, recommended a five-point program to combat what they described as a "flagrant disregard of motor vehicle laws."

The resolution approved at its monthly meeting at the church was motivated by two recent incidents of cars passing stopped school buses in the area, according to the Rev. David W. Arnold, rector of the church.

Cites Recent Cases

The resolution said:

"It seems that in recent months there has been an increase in the flagrant disregard for the motor vehicle laws and rules of the road. Accordingly, the parish vestry has gone on record requesting that law enforcement agencies be contacted concerning the following:"

"1. A get-tough policy be adopted in this area, which is above and beyond politics for 100 per cent compliance with vehicle and traffic laws and rules of the road in the Rondout Valley School District area and particularly on Route 209.

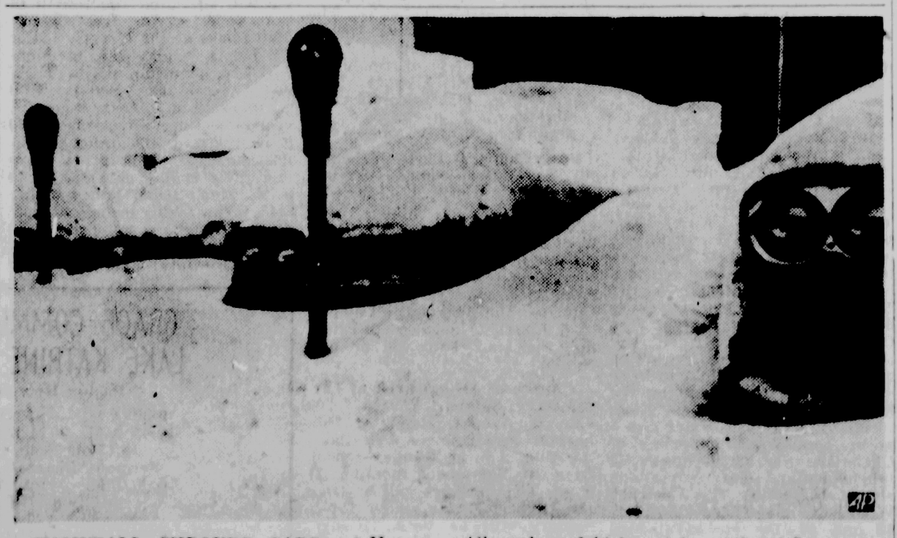

"2. State police cars be assigned to the area to follow school buses in an effort to prevent further violations of the law, and to make on the spot arrests of violators.

"3. A concerted attempt be made to eliminate the 'speed track' on Route 209 of trucks and passenger cars, particularly in and through the villages.

Seek Full Publicity

"4. That full publicity be

A myriad of ideas for the 350th Hudson - Champlain Celebration in the Town of Esopus was presented at the Thursday night meeting of the local committee in the Town Hall.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Each Friday, amid the tensions, wars and tyrannies of the Middle East, a dedicated band of Franciscan Fathers relives the events of the Via Dolorosa, the last path of Jesus Christ from His condemnation to His tomb.

Recently, I joined them in their sad journey past the stations where Jesus received his cross, where Simon of Cyrene helped Him to carry it, where He met the women of Jerusalem, and on to Calvary.

I marveled that, throughout the years of man-made violence that have swept the Holy Land, this simple act of devotion has prevailed for six centuries, demonstrating that the enduring love Christ taught us is stronger than the passing tensions of the day.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

THE SHINING FRAGMENTS

No one finds complete happiness here. The pattern of life is too variable for the same lovely music to emerge all of the time. Some years ago Rosemary Taylor wrote a book to which she gave the very interesting title: "Ridin' the Rainbow." Most of us seem, in the kindly providence of God, to have some fair turn at ridin' the rainbow. We have our blessings, our happy moments, our successes, our joyous experiences. But most of us, also, seem to take our turn at having the rainbow get balky—and throw us! To change the figure, no life ever is all sunshine. "Into each life some rain must fall / Some days must be dark and dreary." Any one who attains to anything that rightly can be called maturity discovers that life has both its ups and its downs; its elations and its discouragements; its lifts and its drawbacks. Happiness never comes in one complete and perfect piece; it is a matter of looking for, and finding the shinning fragments.

He who approaches life expecting that every day will wear the garb of effulgent glory, that no unwanted trial shall overtake him, no cloud ever appear in his sky, is in for a rude awakening. No life is ever like that. It was never meant to be. The person never existed who life was lavished with unending bliss from the beginning of his days to the ending. Hardly anything, therefore could be more strategically important to wise living than that expectations be tampered by and adjusted to, this fact. If we go out with wrong ideas of what life, as God planned it, has to offer; we are sure to come back with heartbreaking disappointments.

In the quest for the shinning fragments it is so essential that we discipline our eyes so that our trials do not blind us to our mercies. Robert Louis Stevenson, who never knew what it would be like to have good health, could write: "My body which my dungeon is / But oh my parks and palaces." He could see out of, and beyond, his dungeon. That is always a mark of courageous wisdom. Fabulous segments were missing from Stevenson's jig-saw puzzle of happiness, judged by normal standards of good health, but that did not blind him to the fact that there were some shining fragments. He concentrated on those—and made something cheerful and immortal out of them.

Happiness is like a crystal,
Fair and exquisite and clear,
Broken in a million pieces,
Shattered, scattered far and near.
Now and then along life's pathway,
Lo! some shining fragments fall;
But there are so many pieces
No one ever finds them all.

You may find a bit of beauty,
Or an honest share of wealth,
While another just beside you
Gathers honor, love or health.
Vain to choose or grasp unduly,
Broken is the perfect ball;
And there are so many pieces
No one ever finds them all.

Yet the wise as on they journey
Treasure every fragment clear,
Fit them as they may together,
Imaging the shattered sphere,
Learning ever to be thankful,
Though their share of it is small;
For it has so many pieces
No one ever finds them all.

March 8-10 Set by Lutherans For Great Hour of Sharing

Members of seven Kingston-Saugerties area Lutheran churches together will seek a goal of $5,000 for the "One Great Hour of Sharing" program of Lutheran World Action March 8 to 10, joining 11,000 other Lutheran congregations across the nation in the 13th annual observance.

Participating are St. Paul's, Redeemer, and Trinity of Kingston; Atonement, Saugerties; St. Paul's, West Camp; Mt. Calvary, Ruby, and Christ Lutheran of Woodstock.

Provides Needs

In East Germany a Lutheran pastor will be better able to reach his scattered parishioners by riding on a motor bicycle provided by Lutheran World Action funds. In Austria a Hungarian refugee couple will be given an opportunity to emigrate to a new land of opportunity. In Poland a hungry, tired pastor's family will receive financial support. In Jordan an Arab refugee child will be proud of her first new dress on her first day at school. In Tanganyika, East Africa, a small boy will be enabled to learn the magic of reading and writing. In northern Africa a radio station will broadcast the Gospel. In Hong Kong, refugees from Communist China will wait patiently in line, knowing that they will receive food for their families.

In Japan, as in other places around the world, American military personnel will be welcomed and wholesomely entertained by one of the Lutheran Service Centers. In Australia, where half the Lutheran population is newly immigrated, vitally needed church buildings will be financed. In Brazil new avenues for the distribution of relief materials to drought areas will be explored and developed.

Reaches 80 Lands

All these activities and many more, reaching 80 countries and territories will be made possible through this year's Lutheran World Action fund, whose national total is $3,900,000.

Since 1939 Lutherans of America have raised more than $53,000,000 through Lutheran World Action of which local churches have contributed annually with quotas of $2 per member per year. In addition the churches have sent tons of used clothing since 1939 for world relief.

In 1959 about two-thirds of the goal of $3,900,000 will go for the support of activities of the Lutheran World Federation. Of this, $986,720 will go for the support of churches behind the Iron Curtain, such as supplying Bibles, repairing worship centers, providing scholarships for Christian young people. Revolving loans will enable these churches to help themselves.

World missions in Tanganyika, Indonesia, New Guinea, India, Jordan, Hong Kong, South Africa and Ethiopia are supported in the amount of $1,200,000 supplying schools, hospitals, church planting designed to create autonomous native churches with native leadership.

Lutheran churches and missions of Latin America will be given $150,000, and the Federations (LWF) program for a theological seminary $30,000.

To Receive $350,000

Lutheran World Relief, the material aid agency and the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, will receive $350,000 for its work in processing and distributing used clothing. In the past year Lutheran World Relief has gathered more than 4,500,000 pounds of relief clothing, contributed by Lutherans in America for the needy in 12 countries. Churches of the Kingston-Saugerties Area will be gathering this clothing during Lent.

Lutheran World Relief expended $240,000 for the distribution of government surplus foods to needy people around the world, some 170 million pounds of such foods were distributed in 1958. One dollar provides 300 pounds of surplus food in areas of greatest need.

St. James Choir Presents Lenten Cantata Sunday

"Olivet to Calvary" the widely known Lenten cantata by J. H. Maunder, English composer of the 19th Century, will be sung in St. James Methodist Church, Fair and Pearl Streets, by the sanctuary choir Sunday, at 4 p. m.

Soloists for the occasion are John A. McCullough, tenor, who in addition to his solo work in the community, is also president of the Community Concerts Association; and Walton A. McClure of Cornwallville, baritone. Mr. McClure has a background of 20 years experience as a soloist and teacher of voice in Florida.

The cantata portrays the period of Christ's life beginning with His last return to Jerusalem, and covering his teaching and philosophy as well as the events of His passion. Specific occasions include His arrest, trial, procession to Calvary and crucifixion.

J. H. Maunder is a composer of the Romantic period. His music is "programatic," describing a very vivid narrative.

The musical passages create a complete rapport between performer and listeners. The sancturay choir is under the direction of Raymond C. Corey, minister of music at St. James.

Church Meeting

The annual quarterly conference of the Glasco and East Kingston Methodist Churches will be held Sunday, 7:30 p. m., at the East Kingston Church. The Rev. W. Bishops' Relief Fund '59 Appeal Concludes Sunday

The 400 Catholic parishes in the New York Archdiocese will join with other parishes throughout the United States Sunday to mark the close of the 1959 appeal of the Catholic Bishops' Relief Fund with an envelope collection at all Masses, and sermons on charity from the pulpit. The national goal for this year's apeal is $5,000,000.

"The amount collected," the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John F. McCarthy, who is directing the appeal in the New York Archdiocese, states, "will be utilized to finance the world-wide operations of Catholic Relief Services. This consists of supplying refugees and native poor in 51 countries with food, clothing and medicines; starting work projects to make these destitute people self-supporting and assisting refugees to resettle in countries where they may find employment.

"Last year Catholic Relief Services shipped overseas one billion pounds of suppies valued at $107,791,000. They went to areas of need in Europe, Asia, Africa, the Near and Far East, and Central and South America. All shipments were labeled, "Gifts of the people of the United States, both in English and in the native tongue of the country to which they were being sent."

Msgr. McCarthy points out that while the Bishop's Fund Appeal is made primarily to the Catholic population of the country, it is also extended to everyone who would like to help the poverty-stricken peoples of other countries, because all suppies are distributed overseas without regard to race, color or creed. Need is the only criterion.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MARCH 7, 1959

PROTECTING SHOPPERS, MERCHANTS

Enactment by the Common Council of an ordinance controlling "fly-by-night" merchandising of the prolonged "fire sale" variety is a move in the interest of both shoppers and local merchants.

The ordinance regulates special sales beyond those involving a store's regular stock in trade by requiring a $100 license fee for such sales which are not to last more than 30 days. The type of sales listed include smoke, fire and water damage also those involving bankruptcy, receivers, syndicates, closing out or any similar type sale.

The Freeman from time to time has warned its readers to beware of the transient merchant. These people are here today and away tomorrow. Your local merchant is in back of everything he sells. Local stores have been of particularly fine service to residents of Kingston and the surrounding area. No longer do our residents have to go elsewhere or depend upon the visiting salesmen for their shopping needs and home improvements. Local stores offer better quality merchandise and at as reasonable prices as those of other agencies. And the beneficial effect of buying from your local merchant, who stands in back of everything he sells or does, should be plain to everyone.

Attorney General Lefkowitz in his drive to put a stop to the schemes and gimmicks which are used by those who seek only to make an easy dollar, declares that the consumer must take an active, participating role in the fight against fraudulent and deceptive selling practices.

The wage earner and the consumer have the right to look to public officials for protection against deceptive sales practices. The business man who tries to carry on with integrity and a regard for his customers has a like right to look to public officials for protection against the unscrupulous segment whose lack of ethics and sharp practices destroy public confidence in the entire trade.

MARK OF CONFIDENCE

The Dow Jones averages of industrial stock prices recently reached an historic peak. The 30 issues of stock making up these averages now top 600. A measure of the meaning of this figure can be gauged when it is compared with the high reached in September 1929. At that time the averages reached 381.

By no means does this indicate that stock prices are presently way beyond some danger point. On the contrary, while shares may be selling high relative to dividend payments, most observers believe that earnings will increase to justify those prices. This highest level in history actually reflects the country's phenomenal growth in industrial capacity and output.

Some of the increase may be attributed to inflation and the cheapening of the dollar over the years. But it is beyond dispute that shareholders today own, through their companies, more plant and equipment, productive capacity and earnings prospects than ever before in history. This is the real significance of today's high prices in industrial shares.

It is a gratifying thing to see U.S. industrial might in the market place and bringing top prices. Investors here and throughout the world are showing, by bidding high, the confidence they have in the American productive system.

OFF TO AUSTRALIA

The rugged individualism of the American farmer is obviously still with us. Consider the story of the Michigan poultry farmer who has announced his intention of selling his farm and moving to Australia.

Apparently this embattled farmer has had his fill of what he calls regimentation. Tired of acreage allotments, crop restrictions, and most of what goes to make up our domestic agricultural program, this intrepid Michigander says the question is: Do I own my land, or don't I?

While this is probably an extreme view, there is a kernel of truth in it. American agriculture, under the aegis of big government and a price support program, is necessarily subject to some regulation. With subsidy inevitably comes a measure of restriction on the freedom to act. Government assistance and government direction too often go hand in hand.

It is this sort of thing that can frustrate a man who wants to run his farm in his own way. But without price supports and the regulation that goes with them, the farmer takes great risks. It boils down to the question of how much regulation is justifiable to minimize the risk. The Michigan poultry farmer's answer seems to be: Not this much!

THE BAR AND COMMIES

A special committee of the American Bar Association labored on the subject of Communist tactics, strategy and objectives and produced a 57 page report which is undoubtedly the clearest and most succinct study of the subject and a set of resolutions which the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association adopted.

I listened to Orison S. Marden, a New York lawyer, on television, try to crawl out of the adoption of the resolutions by saying that the report had not been adopted, only the resolutions which in the document are called recommendations. Having meandered through a logical maze, Marden was put to intellectual flight when Roy Cohn, another lawyer, called attention to the fact that the House of Delegates does not adopt reports but only passes the recommendations of the committee.

Having suffered these legalistic puerilities, we might now discuss this significant report. What Marden tried to say was that the report is not an attack on the United States Supreme Court, which it definitely is in matters of subversion, and that if it is, it does not matter as most lawyers regard the Court as the holy of holies of our political system which it undoubtedly is. But the holy of holies, the inner sanctuary of any temple, can become polluted if improper persons become the High Priests, as, for instance, Caiphas of Biblical fame. An institution is only as good as the men who manage it and in many countries, the instruments of justice and right have been corrupted, if not by money then by the corrosive activities of incorrectly oriented men.

What the report does is to take a series of decisions of the United States Supreme Court in 1956, 1957 and 1958 and show that the Court "legislated" favorably to subversives and subversion and that these decisions are not accidental or incidental or whimsical, but present an intention to change the law. The "recommendations" of the committee call upon Congress to restore the laws governing subversion and subversives.

For instance, in the matter of Cole vs. Young, the report states:

". . . Three justices dissented holding that the clear purpose of Congress was being frustrated in that the statute had been intended to authorize summary dismissal of employes whose retention would be inimical to the national interests regardless of the sensitivity of their positions."

The Court vitiated the intention of Congress in the "Summary Suspension Act of 1950." There is not room in this article to refer to all the cases cited, but I should like to quote the committee's statement in the case of Slochower vs. Board of Education of the City of New York:

"Under the terms of a New York City charter provision which had been long in effect a City College professor was discharged without notice or hearing for claiming his privilege against self-incrimination when asked about Communist Party membership by a Congressional committee investigating matters of national security. It seemed that the professor had answered similar questions put by a state investigating body and that this information was in the hands of city authorities at the time of his discharge. The Supreme Court reversed the decisions of three New York courts and held that this automatic discharge was unconstitutional because of alleged lack of due process. Four justices dissented."

This committee supports the FBI and the investigative committees of Congress. Concerning the letter, it says:

"Notwithstanding some mistakes—fewer than generally charged—the service to our country by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and the House Un-American Activities Committee has been incalculable and worthy of far greater praise than has been accorded to them. The Communist and radical propaganda against these committees has never subsided. . . .

"This committee has been astonished to read the proposal to the Congress that one of its committees charged with investigating National and State security and Communist activities be discontinued. We regard any attempt to terminate or to curtail the work of the committee of each house charged with this vital duty as a distinct disservice to the nation."

At the annual convention of the American Bar Association next summer, these resolutions will again appear on the agenda. Not only the Communist and other leftists but many so-called respectable lawyers will object to them because they will argue that the Supreme Court must never be criticized. In a country of free men, no institution of government must never be criticized.

Seek Masculine Advice In Problems Feminine

Don't ask another woman—ask a man—

If you really want to know if a hat or a dress becomes you.

A woman pays so much attention to fashion trends, fabric and labels that she may urge you to buy something that isn't particularly becoming. A man will see just one thing: whether or not you look pretty in the particular dress or hat.

If you want an unbiased opinion on another woman. Women judge another woman by comparing her with themselves. But a man can be more objective in seeing a woman as she really is.

If you want to know what qualities in a woman appeal to a man. Women have a lot of preconceived ideas of what men like in women. But at best they are only guessing. A man knows for the simple reason that he's a man.

If you want advice when you are selecting a gift for a man. Women are amused by the helplessness of a man selecting a gift for a woman, but actually women make just as many mistakes when they are hunting the right gift.

If you want to know the real issues in a political campaign. Women tend to be more concerned with personalities than with issues and often take a violent dislike to a candidate for reasons that they can't explain, or for reasons that are purely emotional.

If you want to know why a girl who, in your opinion, is "perfectly lovely" doesn't appeal to men.

Another woman will just affirm your conviction that men are poor judges of women, but a man will know instinctively why the girl either antagonizes men or leaves them totally disinterested.

There are many times when it pays to ask a man, instead of another woman.

WASHINGTON, (NEA) —President Eisenhower's recent trip to Mexico was anything but a vacation for his Secret Service bodyguards. The agents are still trying to catch their breath.

Their exhaustion stems from a dinner party which Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos tossed for Ike at an exclusive restaurant several miles from Acapulco. Following dinner, the host drove home by himself believing that arrangements had been made for two automobiles to transport Ike, his staff and the Secret Service men.

But just one car showed up. And it was only big enough to hold Ike and his official aides. So the bodyguards had to trot beside the auto all the way back to town.

ONE OF THE Federal Aviation Agency's many meadaches is an elevator in the organizzation's new headquarters that keeps getting stuck between floors. It's been breaking down so often that some of the secretaries take books to read whenever they ride it.

COCKTAIL PARTIES to celebrate a poem are likely to be on next year's reception agenda for Washington and other world capitals. For in 1960, Iran plans to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the English translation of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam. Since an official celebration is being planned in Tehran, the capital, it's expected that Iran's embassies will follow suit.

The Rubaiyat is a collection of verse written in the 11th century by Persian astronomer and poet Omar Khayyam. But the man whom celebrants will toast is Edward FitzGerald, a British minister who translated the Rubaiyat almost a century ago.

Although the Rubaiyat has been translated into other languages, Iranians—they used to be called Persians — like Fitz-Gerald's work best. It ranks next to the Bible in the number of copies that have been printed and sold.

CARE OFFICIALS decided recently to promote a joint welfare and health group fund-raising crusade by photographing the campaign chairmen with a set of twins. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Arthur Flemming represents the health group. And Veterans' Administration Chief Sumner G. Whittier is in charge of the welfare campaign.

The trouble was in finding twins. For days the CARE officials called government agencies hunting for a lead. When they were almost ready to give up, they located twin daughters of an FBI employe.

Following the picture taking session, one of the CARE representatives told Flemming about the trouble involved in finding the twins. The secretary was flabbergasted.

Reason is that he has twin boys and Whittier is the father of twin girls.

PUBLIC RELATIONS man Ralph DuBrowin became something of an aerial Sir Galahad the other morning on a flight from Washington to New York.

While preparing breakfast for the passengers, one of the hostesses mashed her finger in the refrigerator door and fainted. Ralph, who was sitting nearby, rushed to the girl and helped revive her.

Then he pitched in with the breakfast preparations. For the next hour he loaded food on trays while the other hostess served them.

"Everything went pretty smoothly" Ralph explains. "The only trouble was that the plane landed before I got a chance to eat."

SHOW BUSINESS executives will be missing a bet by not trying to sign up Kremlin Boss Nikita Khrushchev if he ever visits the U. S. For according to copies of his recent speeches, the guy is a scream.

When Khrushchev's speeches are printed for distribution, brief descriptions are given of how certain sentences affect the audience. Here are the reactions that some of his statements had on the masses:

"Animation," "Animation in the Hall," "Animation, Applause," "Laughter in the Hall," "Stormy Applause," "Stormy, Prolonged Applause."

TWO CAPE CANAVERAL missile experts were startled when they walked into the House Science and Astronautics Committee room to testify and found it deserted. Soon they were joined by newspaper reporters who also were bewildered by the congressmen's absence.

Finally, a committee staff member showed up and explained that the hearing had been moved at the last minute to another room. "These hearings are like the satellite program," one of the roporters cracked. "You never know what's going on until they get into orbit."

"In my opinion," one of the scientists complained, "what this committee needs is a countdown."

BABSON DISCUSSES ANTI-MISSILE MISSILES

BABSON PARK, Mass. March 6—In my column last week on Berlin and the stock market I concluded that the entire Russian-German situation depends upon whether either nation is prepared to defend itself against hydrogen or atom bombs. If Russia backs down on her Berlin ultimatum, it means that her Siberian experiments with anti-missile missiles have not been a success. Surely no nation, including the United States, has a defense against them.

GERMANY HANDS OUT NO NEWS RELEASES

Russia is encouraging our newspapers, radio broadcaste s, and magazines to tell of her "wonderful" scientists and laboratories. You do not hear anything of what Germany is doing. Yet the so-called Russian scientists were stolen from Germany; in fact, I believe it was a German and not a Russian who built the famous "Sputnik."

Although they are saying nothing, the Germans are far ahead of either Russia or the U. S. in scientific achievement. Russia talks as if the U. S. were her great enemy; while she knows it is Germany and China she must fear. It is the present talk of protection from enemy missiles by all nations which causes the "cold war" to continue.

The Democrats blame Eisenhower for everything, and talk about "the elephant sleeping in the White House." Our President may be a child at politics; but he knows Europe better than anyone in public office. He knows what Germany is doing, but he keeps it to himself as Dr. Adenauer wants him to do. The same also applies to the scientific developments of France under Charles deGaulle and of Great Britain under Harold Macmillan. President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan, and President deGaulle know that Germany is the protector of Western Europe. They are prepared to work closely with Dr. Adenauer. Great events are in the making —Germany has the world's best scientists, best laboratories, and best fighting spirit. The Germans are not dishonest like the Russians; nor are they soft like us. They realize that in case of World War III Russia would first try to destroy West Germany. Hence, the West Germans are making plans to prevent this.

Germany has tremendous sins for which she must ultimately repent or repay. These primarily were the unforgivable persecutions of the Jews under orders from Hitler and his cohorts. Perhaps one way Germany could atone for these crimes would be by inventing a way to make the free world safe from Russian attacks or even threats.

Germany Will be the Bulwark

News releases from Russia and the U. S. are mostly about ground-to-air defense missile—and Germany will secure it. When this is found, it could secure the peace for some years to come.

The primary work of defense against all missiles is being done by Germany. The world's best physicists, metallurgists and engineers are working on this problem in Germany with the help of Great Britain, France and the U. S. A. Russia is more interested in these experiments than in conquering space. Remember that no country releases its most important inventions to the public. Such work is highly "classified." I believe a safe defense against missiles will be found. This will make Germany all-powerful in her strategic position as the bulwark of the free nations. Russia is truly afraid —not of the U. S. A. or Great Britain or France—but of Germany. Russia is handicapped and greatly embarrassed by having West Berlin and Western Germany advance so in everything while East Berlin and East Germany are stagnant.

The only way Khrushchev now sees to stop this is by absorbing Berlin. Of course, the Germans will not agree to this, nor will Great Britain, France, or the U. S. A. Such a withdrawal would be suicidal for the West. If, however, Russia could find a sure defense against German missiles, she might be willing to withdraw from Berlin and let East and West Berlin combine, with free passage guaranteed to all parts of the world. The isolation of Berlin without a Western outlet is crazy and must be rectified. I believe this will take place as soon as all nations have anti-missile missiles.

Directors Hold Meeting

Girl Scout Week (March 8-14) will feature numerous activities according to a report received from the Board of Directors, Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts.

At a meeting held recently in Kingston, the report revealed that window displays will predominate each emphasizing historical background in keeping with the Year of History. Troop recognition for outstanding arrangements will be awarded at the Spring Council meeting set for Tuesday, April 7, at the New Hurley Reformed Church Hall, 6:30 p. m.

Serving on the scout recognition committee will be Mrs. Gordon Anderson, Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck, High Falls and Mrs. Donald Tinnie of Port Ewen.

Girl Scout Camp

"...an improved site with adequate facilities for year-round camping," will be the objective of the Camp Development Committee, headed by Mrs. Robert Greene of Woodstock.

The committee, instituted by the Board in 1958 and consisting of volunteer workers, has studied the possible development and improvement of Camp Wendy, Ulster County's established Girl Scout camp at Wallkill. Its work thus far has included planning sessions, work meetings, attendance at Camp development conferences given by the American Camping Association in New York City; camp visits and interviews with Miss Alice G. Porter, camping advisor on the National Girl Scout staff, conferences with Miss Dolores Yorba, council adviser on the national staff, and Julian Salomon, camping adviser on the national staff.

A brochure containing detailed information was presented to the Board by Mrs. Greene. It was noted that the development plan is presented in four phases over a period of three years.

Serving on the development committee are:

Mrs. Donovan Buehring, Mrs. David Ennis, Mrs. Daniel Van Wagenen, Miss Alyce Kowalski, James C. Plunket, Albert Milliken, Arthur Patterson, Primo Montifia, Augustus Brinnier, Abram Heinlein, Kenneth Martin, J. C. Hoyt, Mrs. John Scott Mrs. Calvin Wygant Sr., Mrs. John Olivet, Oscar V. Newkirk and Robert Greene.

Personnel Recruitment

Mrs. John Cooke, membership nominating chairman, announced the appointment of the following:

Membership nominating committee — Mrs. Arnold Hammesfahr of Wallkill; camp committee —Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hammesfahr; program committee — Mrs. William Burke, Miss Pat Hughes, and Mrs. John Johnson; training committee — Mrs. John Jordan; public relations — Mrs. Melvin Samuels and Mrs. Gene Van Winkle; troop camping — Mrs. Edward DeGroff.

The Board, during its meeting, approved revised standards and policies for troop camping as presented by Mrs. Greene. They also approved recommendations for troop financing presented by Mrs. Gordon Anderson.

The Board viewed the film "You're It," a new Girl Scout movie about public relations featuring Orson Bean as narrator. Its message was — "every town has an attitude about girl scouting, built up from many things — by people over the years — not just by the public relations committee."

Science Fair Plans Takes Shape Here; Set for April 13

The first meeting of representatives from all the schools of the Kingston Consolidated District was held at the George Washington School Tuesday, March 3, to make plans for the science fair to be held the week of April 13 in all local schools.

Miss Anna Whitbeck, chairman, announced the following committees: Secretary, Margaret Norman; transportation, Donald Rafferty, chairman, Garrett Vandemark, Marion Schwenk; arrangements, Peter Dyshuk, chairman, Edward Hicks, Stephen Waligurski; awards committee, Annetta Roosa; judges, Richard Mason; publicity, Sadie H. Lutzin.

The exhibit is to include entries from all children individually or in groups of not more than five from grades four, five and six. There will be one winner for each grade level in each of the schools of the consolidated district.

The winners will be awarded a ribbon and the opportunity to take the scientific experiment to the New Paltz Fair to be held May 1 and 2. Every contestant will be awarded a certificate.

Richard Mason, one of the judges, said that entries would be judged on evidence of scientific approach in construction; evidence that contestant has learned some science through project; evidence of creativity and workmanship; evidence that project carries out its purpose; evidence that it is useful to people; evidence that it has appeal and is self explanatory.

The Kingston Consolidated School District is in step with the times by encouraging all its students to partake in this work and discover the world of science. It is the hope of the science fair committee that many youngsters will become aware of the fascinating world of science and not only enrich their cultural background, but even go on to careers in science.

Works of Modern Mexican Artists Are Now On Exhibtion at Kingston City Library

The modern works of Mexican artists are now on exhibition at Kingston Library through the courtesy of the Fine Arts Department of IBM.

The paintings, purchased by the Fine Arts Department, offer an opportunity to view the work of the leading artists in Mexico. The works, which represents the modern art movement in Mexico today, consists of prints, oil and water color.

The paintings depict Mexican history from the ancient centuries when Mexico was the center of fabulous civilizations to the 20th Century—its Mexican Revolution and its ensuing period of reconstruction.

Three centuries of oppression by foreign landowners terminated in the Mexican Revolution, which broke out in 1910. The aim of the leaders was to return to native values, to make the native Mexican the basic unit of the economic and democratic ideal, to drive out the foreign landowners, and return the land to its original possessors.

Most of the artists were in the rebel armies. The conflict ended and the period of reconstruction begun, they returned to Mexico City to work on government contracts for frescos on the walls of public buildings. The subjects dealt with social problems of the day. This, they felt, was making art public property "an art valuable to the people."

Following the end of the Mexican Revolution, a "manifesto" was published "from the Syndicate of Technical Workers, Painters and Sculptors to the Indigenous Races humiliated through the centuries to the Peasants and Workers oppressed by the rich" in which they pledged that the "makers of beauty must invest their greatest efforts in an art valuable to the people." This they have done. Thus, this display tells, in part, the story of the Mexican people, their joys, their sorrows, their oppression and hardships, their struggle to rebuild Mexico for the people, their social problems, their families and the individual.

The following artists are represented in the group:

Ignacio Aguirre, Raul Anguiano, Doctor Atl, Alberto Beltran, Jean Charlot, Miguel Covarrubias, Lola Cueto, Francisco Diaz De Leon, Francisco Dosamantes, Jesus Escobedo, Jesus Guerrero Galvan, Francisco Gutierrez, Frida Kahlo, Leopoldo Mendez, Carlos Merida, Roberto Montenegro, Francisco Mora, Jose Chavez Morado, Jose Clemente Orozco, Mariano Paredes, Gonzalo De La Paz Perez, Hector Poleo, Jose G. Posada, Diego Rivera, David A. Siqueriros, Rufino Tamayo, Desiderio H. Xochitiotzin, and Alfredo Zalce.

Sawyer Debaters Fourth at Siena

Saugerties junior debaters paced by Malcolm MacKay and Nancy Misasi took over the varsity roles at Siena last Saturday.

A triumph over Mt. St. Michaels (2nd at NYU a week ago) was the high point of Sawyer efforts. George Popowicz and Stanley Newkirk dropped a crucial decision to Franklin Academy in the final round and thereby missed a chance at first place.

Despite the loss to the Sawyers, Mt. St. Michael 5-1 took home the honors with Webster second and McQuaid third. In the other divisions the Saugerties depth of material was sorely taxed as illness caused juggled schedules, partners and sides. Hannah McLenann coupled with Eileen Cahill turned in two victories against a lone defeat. Two freshmen Charles Hall and Mary Metzler made their "big time" tournament debut with two victories also. Stephen Borner paired with Carolyn Halpert in an 11th hour substitution was able to gain only one win.

Equally successful were efforts by Roland Mayone and Robert Francello to replace Theodore Olsen as partner for Albert Giannotti. Karen Faus and Freda Sandner replaced Wayne Abbott and David Sheeder, but were shut out without a single victory. In total Saugerties teams won 12 and lost 12.

Employer Report For State Tax Return Extended

ALBANY — The State Tax Commission today granted a second blanket extension of time for the filing of employer information reports and employer withholding returns on non-residents in connection with the 1958 State income tax.

The new deadline for the two types of state tax reports and payment of tax withheld from non-residents is April 1.

Earlier, the Tax Commission had extended the due dates to March 15. Ordinarily, the six million information reports from 350,000 employers are due February 15, and the 15,000 employer withholding returns and tax withheld from non-residents are due March 1.

Joseph H. Murphy, president of the commission, said the extensions have been granted pending legislative decision on possible cancellation of the 1958 state income tax. Employers need time to prepare the information and withholding reports if they are to be required.

If the 1958 income tax is cancelled, employers of non-residents will be authorized by the commission to refund withheld 1958 tax to employes and no 1958 information reports on resident taxpayers will be required. The information reports are used in the commission's check on delinquency.

Boy, 15, Steering Tanker at Time Of Sea Collision

NEW YORK (AP) — A 15-year-old boy was at the helm of the Norweigian tanker Jalanta, but under the supervision of elder seamen, at the time the tanker was in collision with the liner Constitution.

Carl Henrik Hoff, who gave his age as "actually 15½," testified Friday in the Coast Guard inquiry of the collision last Sunday in dense fog about five miles outside the entrance to New York Harbor.

Hoff said he had been assigned to steer the tanker by magnetic compass about 41 minutes before the accident. The crash sliced off the tanker's bow, and a hole was gouged in the liner's hull. No one was hurt.

With the boy was the vessel's skipper, Capt. Anders Lovald, who was studying the radarscope. The third officer, Sigsten Olsen, was on the starboard wing of the bridge.

Concerning the youth of the wheel-man, a Norwegian Shipping Federation spokesman said:

"There is nothing unusual in assigning a boy who has completed apprenticeship in a training school ship to any job the master thinks him capable of doing under supervision of elder seamen."

Much Work Ahead

Recess May Be Short for Senate, Johnson Advises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's traditional Easter recess maybe bobtailed this year unless the senators buckle down and start working faster.

That's the word from Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex).

Johnson read off a long list of bills Friday for possible Senate floor action before the Easter recess begins March 26.

Some of the bills still are awaiting committee action. But Johnson told a news conference that if the senators move quickly they won't need to return until Monday, April 6. Otherwise they may be asked to return on March 30, the day after Easter.

Both the Senate and House customarily take a one-week recess after Easter.

Youth, 16, Who Wiped Out Family, Is Back in Jail

AUBURN, N. Y. (AP)—A teenager charged with killing the other four members of his family was back in jail today after undergoing psychiatric examination.

John Jayne, 16, was locked in the Seneca County jail at Waterloo Friday because the Cayuga County jail here is being demolished to make way for a new one. He was examined at Willard State Hospital.

The hospital report has not been disclosed.

The boy last month pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to four charges of first-degree murder. His court-appointed attorneys said they had been told to prepare for a trial in June.

Police said young Jayne has admitted that he shot his father and mother, Willis, 66, and Amber, 55; a brother, Willard, 19, and a sister, Elizabeth Anne, 13. They were slain Jan. 28 at their farm home near Kelloggsville.

State Police said John told them he felt he had been abused by his father and that other members of the family sided with Willard when the brothers quarreled.

AOH Posts Bail For Girl Charged In Infant's Death

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—An organization whose members are of Irish descent has agreed to post bail for a pretty Irish girl charged with manslaughter in the death of her newborn daughter.

Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians pledged Friday to provide $5,000 bail for Barbara Joyce, 20, a blue-eyed brunette who left Ireland last June.

Police said Miss Joyce gave birth Feb. 24 in her room at the home of her employer, Dr. A. G. Gabriels Jr. She worked as a domestic.

The baby's body was found in a snowbank outside the house. Police said the child died from lack of attention immediately after birth.

Miss Joyce pleaded innocent in Albany County Court to a charge of second-degree manslaughter. She was released in custody of her attorney.

Representatives of the AOH said arrangements had been made for Miss Joyce to stay at the home of an Albany family.

Khrushchev, busy talking up peaceful coexistence at a trade fair in Leipzig, East Germany, let it be known Friday he will consult with his satellite leaders next week in East Berlin.

Khrushchev has proposed that Poland and Czechoslovakia attend a foreign ministers meeting along with the Big Four and both Germanies. Officials said this would probably be at the center of the East Berlin talks but that Khrushchev apparently was trying to show as much solidarity as he could to counter Eisenhower's efforts.

Solon Is Shot Dead

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A woman described by an official as mentally disturbed shot a senator to death Friday in his Senate building office.

Mrs. Ema Martinez Cruz, 43, opened the door of Sen. Rafael Altamirano Herrera's office and fired into his back. He slumped to the floor with a .25 caliber bullet near his heart.

The woman fled down a corridor of the building with the gun still in her hand. She was disarmed by a Senate usher and taken to a police station.

Guffey, Former Pennsy Senator, Is Heart Victim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Sen. Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania, a Democratic stalwart during the New Deal era, died Friday night of a heart ailment at the age of 88.

Guffey, a power in Pennsylvania politics for decades, had lived in Washington since losing his Senate seat in the 1946 Republican landslide.

He died a few hours after being taken to Doctors Hospital. Relatives said he had been having heart trouble for the past two weeks.

Guffey, who made politics both a hobby and a career, never married. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, and four nephews.

Born near Pittsburgh on Dec. 29, 1870, Guffey began his rise to political prominence in 1912 when he took a gamble that paid off.

Breaking with his uncle, Col. J. M. Guffey, veteran Pennsylvania Democratic leader, Guffey backed his former Princeton University professor, Woodrow Wilson for the presidency.

Wilson won both the nomination and the election and Guffey became a power in the party.

Gas Fumes From Tank Leak Still Danger to Area

Fire department headquarters said today that no further reports had been received of gasoline fumes from a storage tank leak on East Chester Street property of the Kingston City Transportation Corp.

It was reported Friday that threat of danger from gas fumes in the downtown area because of seepage and drainage of some 9,000 gallons of gasoline lost through a leak in the storage tank had lessened, but still persisted.

Fumes detected in various areas as early as Feb. 27 were traced finally to the tank which has a capacity of 11,660 gallons.

Fire department and public works personnel worked through Thursday afternoon and part of the night to insure the safety of residents of the area. Remaining gasoline was pumped from the tank and it was filled with water to displace remaining fumes and wet down the area of seepage.

Residents of the area were warned to stop up drainage lines in all instances where fumes were detected, and to ventilate their homes. Fire Chief James M. Brett said yesterday conditions could worsen again.

Heat Is Promised For 500 Who Quit Because of Cold

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—About 500 construction workers, who quit work because they said it was too cold, were expected to return to their jobs Monday at the Reynolds Metal Co. plant.

Union and company spokesmen said heat would be provided in the 88-million-dollar building now under construction. They agreed that Friday's walkout was not a strike.

A spokesman for Local 910 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers said about 400 electricians and 100 pipefitters left their jobs before noon because of a lack of heat.

A representative of Bechtel Co., which is building the plant, said portable heating units were removed from the building Thursday and were not put back Friday.

The union spokesman said the condition would be remedied by Monday.

Two N. Y. Sailors Hurt in Collision Of Ships at Sea

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Two sailors from Upstate New York were among six Navy men injured Wednesday in the collision of the destroyer Bailey and the Military Sea Transportation service ship Haiti in the Mediterranean.

The Navy identified them Friday as:

Gunner's Mate 3.C. R. M. Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartlett, Lyons Falls, N. Y., bruised ribs.

Gunner's Mate 3.C. J. P. Moppa, son of Mrs. Stella F. Moppa, Buffalo, N. Y., left shoulder sprain.

A spokesman at Atlantic Fleet Headquarters said the men returned to duty the day of the accident.

Hatoyama Dies; Prime Minister of Japan Three Times

TOKYO (AP) — Ichiro Hatoyama, 76, crippled former prime minister who helped restore Japan's postwar diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, died today of a heart attack.

Hatoyama, prime minister three times from December 1954 to December 1956, died at his Tokyo home before a doctor could arrive after he had suffered severe chest pains.

He had been in poor health since he suffered a stroke in 1951. It left him partially paralyzed and with a slight speech impediment.

In 1956 he made a sudden trip to Moscow and returned with a World War II peace agreement, signed a short time later in Tokyo. A formal treaty is still pending.

Hatoyama was considered a firm friend of the West.

Levitt Critical

Little Help Seen For N. Y. Schools Under Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's school aid bill would provide little relief for needy school districts, the New York State comptroller maintains.

"The plan set forth in this bill is a very cumbersome and complicated one," Arthur Levitt said Friday in a statement read to a House Education subcommittee.

Levitt urged the congressional group to recommend passage of other bills to provide grants to states for school aid.

He said the administration plan to pay half the interest on local school bonds was merely an attempt to lessen the program's impact on the federal budget over the next few years.

"It actually provides an expensive plan for piling up future interest charges while giving a very modest amount of aid for construction," he said.

Levitt said the federal government should grant money to the states to be distributed to local school districts.

Aid should go to every state, regardless of finanancial ability, to give education a general boost, he said.

Storm Toll Is 54 In Midwest Areas

A wild March snow storm tapered off and whipped through the Northeast today after leaving the upper Midwest straight-jacketed in the worst late winter weather pounding in a decade.

Numerous highways remained blocked in snow-choked sections of Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan as high winds whipped snowfalls of up to 22 inches into 20-foot drifts.

33 Deaths in Iowa

Deaths blamed on the storm numbered 33—12 in Iowa, 10 in Indiana, 6 in Wisconsin, 2 in Michigan 2 in New York and 1 in Pennsylvania. The prespring dose of winter claimed its victims through snow shoveling heart attacks, traffic accidents and asphyxiation.

Winds gusting up to 50 miles an hour swept the heavy snow area as the storm moved northeastward into Canada.

Two 300-foot radio towers were downed by 45 m.p.h. winds in Bowling Green, Ohio, and a house trailer was overturned while being towed on a highway near Lancaster, Ohio.

Temperatures took a sharp skid east of the Mississippi River, and early morning readings were up to 20 degrees colder than a day earlier.

Snowfall tapered off to flurries in most of the Northeast, although locally heavy flurries deposited a fresh blanket near the lower Great Lakes.

Rain in New England

In New England, the precipitation came as heavy rain in mild 50-degree temperatures. A rainfall of 2.17 inches soaked Portland, Maine, halting air traffic and harbor activities. The rain produced local flooding in western Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Highway maintenance officials in Iowa said some communities in the northeastern part of the state would be snowbound for several days in the wake of drifted 20-inch snowfalls. Intercity bus travel over the state was almost nonexistant after the worst snowstorm in 10 years.

Unestimated thousands of cars were abandoned on Iowa highways and city streets, and the situation was little better in Wisconsin where the snow measured up to 22 inches at La Crosse.

Blizzard Strands 30

In Michigan, about 30 persons were stranded south of Marquette as the roughest blizzard of the winter carrying 12-inch snowfalls blocked U.S. Route 41. All of them crowded into a nearby house for the night. Nearly three dozen cars were tied up along another section of U.S. 41 near Harvey and Negaunee.

Light rain dampened the Pacific Northwest and considerable cloudiness blanketed the plateau region. Skies were clear over most of the rest of the country outside the Great Lakes and the Northeast.

Warming was in prospect from the Plains eastward into the Mississippi Valley and colder weather followed the snow into the Northeast.

Desperado, Who Held 4 Hostages, Still at Large

SOUTH PITTSBURG, Tenn. (AP) — A crafty, cigar-smoking desperado, who held four persons hostage in his flight from Alabama imprisonment, continued to evade capture today.

Possemen, mobilized from Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama, said their task was made doubly hard because the fugitive, William E. Smothers, 38, was thoroughly familiar with this cave-pocketed tri-state area and has numerous friends in the section.

Officers believed Smothers was trying to reach Chattanooga, about 35 miles east of here, where he has relatives. Chattanooga police reported they had the relatives' homes under surveillance.

Smothers made his bid for freedom Thursday while being taken by auto to Birmingham from Kilby Prison at Montgomery, Ala., where he was serving robbery sentences totaling 160 years. He was to stand trial in Birmingham on charges of possessing a pistol after conviction of a larceny.

Unlocking his handcuffs and chains with a homemade key, Smothers gained control over Alabama patrolman Otto Dees and the driver of the car, Ted Easley, a prison trusty serving 25 years for murder.

About noon Thursday, armed with Dees' revolver, Smothers added Mr. and Mrs. Noel Keith to his group of hostages. He kidnaped the couple at their home near Birmingham and took their car.

Following a cautious drive to Flat Rock, ala., about 25 miles south of here, the hostages were released unharmed. It was the Keiths' auto that later was found near South Pittsburg.

bank, had it wait for her and then sped in the cab to the bus depot. The cabbie remembered clearly, because she was so pretty. And for the same reason, a ticket seller remembered she took a bus to Reno.

The bus was 50 miles out along the lonely desert road to Reno when Dept. Sheriff Clark Olson spotted it, flagged it down, and stepped aboard. He went up and down the aisle looking for "an extremely pretty girl."

Belligerent, Too

When he came to Miss Ingram, he didn't say a word. He took one look and slapped handcuffs on her.

The girl shrieked, swore and battled the deputy all the way as he dragged her out of the bus and put her in his patrol car. Olson opened her purse and said he found the $1,761, with only $2.20 in addition.

She refused to answer questions. But the FBI said papers in her purse revealed she was from Roanoke, Va.

She was arraigned on a charge of bank robbery and held in lieu of $10,000 bail.

3 Receive Summonses On Traffic Violations

Three drivers were issued summonses Friday and early today by local police, and are scheduled to appear Tuesday at 8 p. m. in city court before Judge Aaron E. Klein.

Summonses were issued Friday to DeWitt Day, 30, of Pine Street, West Hurley, speeding, and Clayton Christiana, 24, of 138 Newkirk Avenue, driving without a rear plate and tab.

Thomas Fuoco, 21, of 60 Hanratty Street, was issued a summons today for passing a red traffic signal.

Brother and Sister Killed in Crash; Land in Creek

MAYVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — A brother and sister were killed Friday night and another man was injured when their automobile skidded during a snow storm, hit a tree and caromed into French Creek.

William Rice, 31, and his sister, Mrs. Joyce Rice Houle, 25, both of Rochester, were killed in the crash in the community of French Creek, about 20 miles west of Mayville in the southwest tip of the state.

Donald Stone, 27, of the Rochester suburb of Brighton was reported in fair condition at Corry, Pa., General Hospital.

Stone was driving the brother and sister to see their sister, Mrs. Charles Kuchma, at French Creek, state police said. The car skidded on fresh snow, glanced off the tree and over a 15-foot bank, landing in eight feet of swift-running water in the creek, troopers reported.

The bodies have been recoverd.

Here's the Way To Cut Glass, And It's Easy

Glass is easier to cut than you'd think. Just follow these rules:

Rest the glass on layers of newspaper, felt, or a blotter.

Wipe off all dirt and grit.

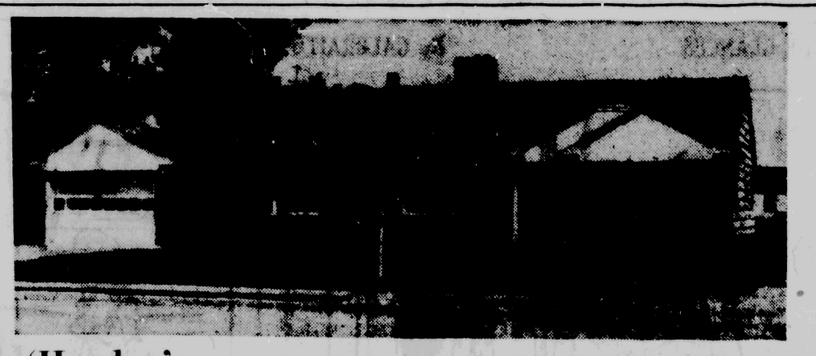

Lubricate the wheel of your glass cutter with household oil.

Use a wooden yardstick to guide the cut, dampening the underside of the yardstick to keep it from slipping.

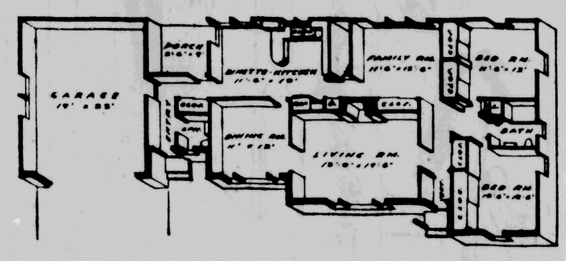

Draw the cutter across the glass toward you once — never more. Don't bear down hard, but use a gentle, steady pressure; a fine line is all that's necessary. The sound of tearing silk as you cut is a sign that all's well.

Hold the glass firmly on both sides of the cut and break it with a quick downbend motion.

The 'Hendon' . . . Brick Dresses Up The Ranch

Rooms	Six
Bedrooms	Two
Closets	Nine
Cubage	37,800
Dimensions	80' x 33'

Those who like the easy, informal living of a ranch house will go for this solidly-built brick model. Every inch of the "Hendon" has been designed with accents on a modern way of life and plenty of room to enjoy it in. The "Hendon" is this week selection of the Home of the Week Plan Service.

There's something substantial and good-looking about brick construction. And while the original cost may be a little greater, its economy soon begins to make itself evident with its ruggedness, warmth and low upkeep.

This design is worthy of close study. While the front is brick, the ends are wood for a pleasing contrast. And rarely do you see a double portico arrangement like this, with its whiteness in contrast to the brick. To top it off, the roof with its variegated shingles, adds to the color harmony.

A Long House

Overall, the measurements are 33' by 80', so care must be taken to choose a lot large enough not to cramp the house's good looks.

Inside, the accent is on modern, relaxed living. Both the dining and living room overlook the well-landscaped grounds through picture windows. Highlight of the living room is a centrally-located fireplace.

The sleeping area is kept as quiet as possible by being placed in the wing at the right of the house. An arch leads to the two bedrooms from a vestibule near the front entrance.

Roomy Closets

Closets in each room are big enough for the most clothes minded person. Linens can be conveniently stored in the space made for them in the bathroom, set between the two rooms.

Typical of the over-all good planning is the openness of the rooms and the ease with which one can pass from one part of the house to another. Traffic flows in the front door or the handy entrance near the garage. Once in, you can move freely in and out of the family room and the dinette-kitchen without interfering with any activities in those rooms.

Although there's a separate dining room, the easy-living style of the dinette will appeal to many. A service counter adds a lot, making meals so much easier to serve from the U-shaped kitchen area.

Plenty of Room

Plenty of room to work in and plenty of light for good vision ventilation from the four windows make this one of the pleasantest parts of the house.

One window overlooks a handy litle porch area. This can be one of the family's warm weather retreats.

Just inside is a convenient entryway with a lavette and the housewife's friend, a closet, placed just right to keep storm gear and rubbers.

The plan of the "Hendon" is acceptable to both VA and FHA.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans for the "Hendron" and other houses in this series are available. Send request, mentioning name of home, to Home of the Week, Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset Street, Providence, R. I.

Printed Own Poems

Edgar Allan Poe's first published volume was "Tamerland and Other Poems," which he printed himself, anonymously, in Boston in 1827. Only a dozen copies of this 40-page pamphlet are known.

Furniture Built Small Without Losing Comfort

Large rooms with higher than average ceilings give a wonderful feeling of spaciousness to any house, but with today's building costs tied closely to enclosed area, it often happens rooms just can't be as large as we'd like.

With this in mind, designers have deliberately created furniture which is light and small in effect, without losing one bit of comfort. How can they do this?

First, the comfort qualities of upholstered pieces are no longer obtained with thick layers of filling, but instead with about four-inch molded slices of foam rubber or foamed plastic.

Springs too have become flattened down, due to new engineering ideas, and often these new springs give you even more resiliency than did the older type of deep coil springs.

Chair and sofa frames on which this newer, lighter weight comfort is built are shaped, not in the old boxy manner, but sculptured and curved to fit the body.

The net result is slim, trim arms and backs which look and feel even more comfortable, than older styles which took up a third more floor space.

Young Folks' Rooms Should Have Charm

Too many parents have been neglecting the junior members of the family in their impressionable early years, a psychologist believes.

They tuck them away in drab and dreary rooms, he said, and then wonder why they have constant problems of keeping the youngsters home and happy.

Living areas have a great influence on children's lives, the psychologist advises. In planning young folks' rooms, parents should make sure they are well laid out with proper space for clothes, books, and collections and hobbies.

They should also give some attention to beauty and color and special tastes of the individual child. It is easy to design a room that will take the rugged abuse of growing children, yet will have graceful loveliness during those growing years.

Wall Treatment

Families who take part in the design of their own homes usually have fine, creative ideas. They take a fresh approach to all design problems—even when it comes to the most obvious ones. Unusual materials, for instance, are used to surface walls. Outdoor materials are used indoors; indoor materials are weatherproofed for outdoor use. Traditional materials like real tile are used in original ways; quarry tile on living room walls, gravel for floor inserts, cinder block for half-wall partitions.

Do You Read It?

Every paint can has a paragraph or two of directions printed on the outside. Careful reading of these instructions may save you time and expense. Study directions carefully, even before opening the can. The manufacturer knows his product better than anyone else, so it's wise to follow his instructions. Perhaps there will be a suggestion for thinning, or for care of the paint left in the can. In any case it is important to you to read the label.

Veterans Rights and Benefits Listed

Howrad C. Shurter, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and Charles L. Culver, state veterans counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Civil Service: Competitive examinations in the New York State Civil Service are scheduled for April 18, 1959, for the following positions: Landscape Architect, Junior Civil Engineer, Westchester County, Head Maintenance Supervisor, Institution Safety Officer and Institution Patrolman, Building Guard and Elevator Operator, Electric Inspector, Gas Inspector, Gas Meter Tester, Gas Tester, Public Health Nurse, Cities and Counties, Probation Officer, Richmond County, Probation Officer, Tompkins County, Compensation Claims Investigator & Compensation Investigator, Senior Compensation Claims Examiner, Director, Surplus Food Distribution, Supervisor of Surplus Food Distribution, Director of Research, State Commission Against Discrimination, Senior Account Clerk, Chief Clerk, (Surrogate), 1st, 2nd, & 10th Judicial Districts. Applications must be filed by March 20, 1959.

Pensions: Social Security benefits may not be waived by veterans or their survivors in order to meet annual income limitations set up in connection with non-service connected disability or death pensions paid by the Veterans Administration. Persons receiving non-service connected benefits may only continue to receive them if their yearly income does not exceed $1400 without dependents or $2700 with dependents. A person receiving non-service connected benefits, therefore, who has received an increase in Social Security benefits which will cause his income during 1959 to exceed the statutory limitations should notify the Veterans Administration immediately of this fact.

Legislation: The bill passed by the U. S. House of Representatives which proposes to increase the amount of direct GI loans funds for veterans in small towns and rural areas by $300 million and which would authorize an increase in interest rate to 5¼ per cent on GI loans from the present 4¾ per cent interest rate has been referred to a Senate committee. The U. S. Senate housing bill which included a $150 million provision for the direct loan program and a similar increase in the interest rate of GI loans has been referred to the U. S. House of Representatives Banking and Currency committee for consideration. As a result of this action on the part of the two Houses of Congress a delay of several weeks may be expected with regard to action on a housing bill affecting veterans.

Armed Forces: The Soldier's and Sailor's Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended, permits the courts to prevent the foreclosure on a loan of person in active military service and for three months after his discharge. The income of a service person, however, must be reduced so that the required payment on the loan cannot be made. The law does not forgive payments on the loan. Any part of the payment which is postponed must be made up after discharge from the armed forces.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

Watch Paint-Brush

How do you use your paint brush in putting a covering on a cealing or a cornice? If the brush is dipped deeply into paint at each fresh loading, the bristles will remain filled with paint at the center of the brush, especially up near the ferrule at the base of the bristles. This accumulation of paint gradually hardens, even while you are painting, and is not easily removed afterward. Dip your brush lightly in the paint and slap the bristles gently against the side of the can's edge. In cleaning, dip the brush in solvent and remove in one sweeping stroke.

Why Paint Tile?

It's possible to paint ceramic tile, but why do it?

Usually, a good cleaning with a fiber brush and a detergent will do the job—even in older homes where the ceramic tile appears stained beyond recall. On very dirty floors, a weak solution of muriatic acid (in skilled hands) is the answer—but never use acid on glazed tiles. Better still, if you have a tough problem in an older home, consult your tile contractor; he's an expert.

Ceramic Tile Found In Ancient Babylon

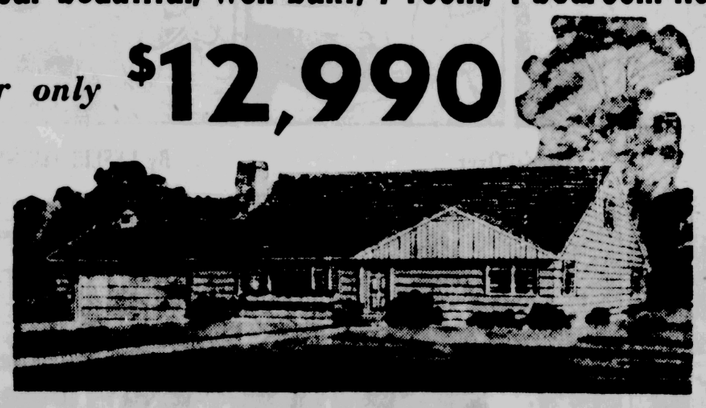

Ceramic tile on exteriors of modern buildings can trace their origins to one of the earliest civilizations, says the Tile Council of America, an association of manufacturers who produce 90 per cent of the nation's ceramic tile. In ancient Babylon, 7,000 years ago, architects insisted on blue ceramic tile for covering the exterior of the uppermost level or shrine of their temples. The beauty and durability of ceramic tile have made it a popular building material down through the centuries.

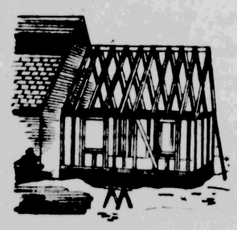

The people of Switzerland speak four different languages, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The story is told that Winston Churchill hailed a cab in the West End and told the cabbie to drive him to BBC, where he was scheduled to make a speech to the world.

Driver—Sorry, sir. Ye'll have to get yourself another cab. I can't go that far.

Mr. Churchill was somewhat surprised, and asked the cabbie why his field of operations was so limited.

Driver—It hain't ordinarily, sir. But ye see, sir, Mr. Churchill is broadcasting in an hour, and I wants to get 'ome to 'ear 'im.

Mr. Churchill was so well pleased that he pulled out a pound note and handed it to the driver, who took one quick look at it and said:

Driver—Hop in, sir. To the devil with Mr. Churchill.

A Challenge

(William James, 1902)

"One hears of the mechanical equivalent of heat. A man with more wealth than culture succeeded in getting his son accepted at a well-known private school. When the boy came home for his first holiday vacation the old man inquired as to how he was treated at school.

Youngster—Oh, not so badly, except that some of the masters and some of the fellows say I'm illiterate.

Father—What? Well, you just take your birth certificate back to school and prove it to 'em that you ain't.

Class A Tourney

Linton Raps Poughkeepsie, 98-70; NFA Bows, 69-59, to Mont Pleasant

Devils Explode For 58 Points In 2nd Half

Linton High School blistered the basket for a phenominal 48 points in the final 12 minutes of play last night at Schenectady to break open a tight contest and trounce the Poughkeepsie Pioneers, 98-70, in a Class A Intersectional contest. The win, coupled with the Mont Pleasant decision over Newburgh, sets the stage for a second straight upstate final in the tourney. The championship battle will be staged next Saturday.

Until the late barrage by the home side, Poughkeepsie was in the game. A run of nine straight points early in the third period had boosted the Pioneers to within four points, 50-46, of the winners. Then the bombing started and the home side went on a 12 point spree in two minutes to widen the margin to 16 points, 62-46. It was simply a rout after that.

To further show how hot the home side was in the second half, it scored the amazing total of 58 points in the 16 minutes. The team just couldn't miss.

Barry Kramer, a leaping jumping jack, had 32 points in a superlative performance. The 6-1 junior clutched key rebounds time and time again and scored many of his points from underneath the basket. He had help from Bill Conners (16), and Don DeLuca and Bob Murray (12).

Dick DePew canned 19 points to pace the Pioneers. Bob Boschen netted 16 and Jimmy Gordon 15. Poughkeepsie closed its season with a 13-6 record. Linton is now 17-1.

Onteora Tops New Paltz, 88-59

Flashing too much height and experience, Oneonta State Teachers' college trounced New Paltz, 88-59, at the upstate court last night. The loss gives the Hawks a 6-11 mark for the year. They close their season tonight at home against Drew University.

The winners had a 46-30 halftime lead and extended it in the final half to win easily. Billy Haber, former Kingston High school star, started for the winners and he contributed six points to the cause in addition to playing a flawless floor game. Four players hit in double figures for Oneonta.

Artie Gribbins, the freshman from Boiceville, had 14 markers for the Hawks. He is a future star and in recent games has been playing good ball for New Paltz. Tony Gamboli had 11 points and Milo Dalby added 10.

Tarheels, Utah, California, Boston U., in Cage Tourneys

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Add North Carolina, Utah, California, Boston University and—this time officially—Denver to the post-season major college basketball tournament fields.

North Carolina, Utah, California and Boston U. wrapped up NCAA berths in Friday developments—Cal and Boston without lifting a finger. At the same time, Denver's position for the National Invitation Tournament was clarified by a loss to Brigham Young that eliminated the Pioneers from the Skyline Conference race.

North Carolina moves into the NCAA Eastern Regional at New York next Tuesday against Navy after whipping Duke 74-71 Friday night to reach the final of the Atlantic Coast Conference's title tournament. Frank McGuire's Tar Heels, 1957 National Collegiate champs, meet North Carolina State in tonight's ACC final at Raleigh but with State on NCAA probation, the result has no bearing on the NCAA berth. State won its semifinal over Virginia 66-63.

Utes Win

Utah, qualifying for the NCAA Far West regional at San Francisco March 13, nailed its fourth Skyline championship with an 85-73 victory over Wyoming. The Utes' victory plus Denver's 72-67 loss to Brigham Young cleared the situation into which Denver fell with its acceptance of an NIT bid Thursday. That touched off a verbal tug of war in which the Skyline said it would hold Denver to its obligation to play in the NCAA tourney in case it caught Utah.

Boston U. joined the NCAA field as an at-large entry and will play Connecticut's Yankee Conference champions at New York in a first round game Tuesday. California has its tournament berth a day ahead of schedule—thanks to its Los Angeles branch. UCLA knocked runner-up Washington out of the Pacific Coast Conference scrambling, 56-55 and gave Cal its third straight title. The Bears will play Utah in the Far West regional.

The big tournament fields now are nearly completed—and can be all but filled within the next 24 hours.

Four Berths Vacant

Four berths are vacant in the 23-team NCAA line-up and two will be settled today in a pair of playoffs. One this afternoon matched Miami of Ohio and Bowling Green at Dayton for the Mid-American Conference title. Tonight, Dartmouth and Princeton play off their Ivy League tie at New Haven, Conn., with the winner advancing to Tuesday's New York tripleheader against West Virginia, champion of the Southern Conference.

Cincinnati needed a victory over Bradley in the afternoon national TV, NBC, game for the Missouri Valley NCAA berth. A Bradley loss would make the Bears the 12th and last team in the NIT opening next Thursday in New York.

It'll take until Monday night, however, to unscramble the fourth NCAA vacancy, the one belonging to the Border Conference. The race ended in a three-way tie. Tonight Texas Western plays New Mexico State at El Paso with the winner facing Arizona State U. for the NCAA nomination Monday night.

The Babe Ruth story and legend is being re-examined and rewritten in the nation's press and magazines these days.

A book authored by newspaperman Bill Slocum, whose father was an avid Yankee writer and fan, and the Babe's widow, Mrs. Claire Ruth will hit the bookstands on Monday.

The Babe Ruth story is also treated in the current issue of a national magazine.

The Slocum book presents the early picture of Babe Ruth as a kid who chewed tobacco at seven, drank whiskey on the Baltimore waterfront at ten and spent the better part of his youth in an industrial home.

Writing with a wife's intimate insight, Mrs. Ruth tells how the Babe was able to overcome his background and not only become baseball's most popular figure but a settled, decent human being as well. The first was easy for the Babe. His natural athletic skills were enormous. The second wasn't. Babe Ruth wasn't the settling type.

Caged and a pauper in his early days, the Babe was a major league pitcher at 19 with the Boston Red Sox—a highly-paid, home run hitting baseball star in his early 20s. Financially able to satisfy his large appetite for wine, women and song, the Babe's uninhibited off-the-field roistering and his on-the-field feuds had baseball circles agog.

During his first year with the Yankees, his roommate, Ping Bodie, when asked, "Who are you rooming with," replied, "Babe Ruth's trunk." The Babe played baseball by day. By night he just played. But the fans loved him, came to see his prodigious home runs and the money rolled in.

• The Babe Responded:

Mrs. Ruth, an attractive Broadway actress and model, met the Babe in 1923. Although they were not married for six years, her effect on him was immediate. He remarked that she was the first woman who ever commented on his drinking too much. Yankee club owner Col. Jake Ruppert was impressed with the good influence she executed on his star. After their marriage, contary to baseball custom, the Colonel requested her to travel on road trips with her husband.

Mrs. Ruth was no jailkeeper. The Babe couldn't be caged or henpecked into staying in baseball shape. But, she helped. More important the Babe helped himself. Her "he's just an overgrown kid" when they first met changed to admiration for the Babe's ability to discipline his desires.

In addition to her picture of how the Babe overcame his early environments and the effects of his rapid and spectacular success, Mrs. Ruth tells the inside story of her fun-loving husband's feuds, finances and family life.

• The Gehrig Incident:

Mrs. Ruth presents intimate glimpses of many of the Babe's associates including shy, quiet Lou Gehrig, whose warm friendship with the Babe was broken by chattering women—bolsterous Leo Durocher whose sum total of civilized conduct, the Babe felt, was limited to his deft shortstop play—hard as nails Yankee General Manager Ed Barrow, who in his fifties challenged the twentyish Babe to a fight.

Most of all, Mrs. Ruth remembers the shameful treatment Babe Ruth received from baseball, particularly the Yankees. He found the game he helped build had no place for him when his playing days ended. She recalls how the Babe, on many occasions before his death in 1948, would sit in the kitchen quietly weeping. He was waiting for the telephone call that would bring him back to the game he loved. It never came.

Babe Ruth became a legend in his own time. In 22 major league seasons, he slammed 729 home runs, including 15 in World Series play. In the 1926 and 1928 World Series he hit three home runs in a single game. He was walked 2056 times and in 1923 alone, Ruth received 170 bases on balls. He helped pitch the Boston Red Sox to three World championships, chalking up a brilliant pitching record of 29 2/3 consecutive scoreless World Series innings. He won 121 games as a pitcher.

Babe Ruth gave baseball the warmth and color of his own personality. When Ruth left baseball, the New York Yankees retired his famous Number 3 uniform forever. He had become a legend and no one else could ever take the Bab's place. No one ever will.

Basketeers Advance In Women's Cage Loop

Rosemary Pillsworth and Betty Mower had 12 points each to spark the Basketeers. The losers had only two points at halftime and were never in the game.

The Nightengales led only 15-10 over the Clowns but they blanked the losers in the fourth quarter to win going away. Ann Toner and Rosemay DePola had eight markers each.

Big Ted Ready To Start Year At First Base

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ted Kluszewski, as famed for his bad back as his big bat, says he's in shape and ready to be the Pittsburgh Pirates' regular first baseman.

Dick Stuart, who took Klu's job last season, says if he plays regularly and hits 30 homers the Pirates will win the National League pennant.

Rocky Nelson, a minor league phenom who has flopped six times in the majors, says he'd like to help the Pirates in some category.

Manager Danny Murtaugh ain't sayin'.

But it's a safe bet that one of these three first basemen is the man Murtaugh is expecting to make up for the batting power Frank Thomas took with him to Cincinnati. The right-handed Thomas, traded for left-handed pitching strength, homered 35 times for the Pirates and had 109 RBI.

The Pirates, as well as the other 15 major league clubs, opened the exhibition season today in Florida and Arizona.

And at Ft. Myers, Fla., where the Pirates entertained Milwaukee, Braves Manager Fred Haney was to take a good look at Casey Wise and Chuck Cottier.

They are two of seven assorted infielders seeking the second base job left glaringly vacant when Red Schoendienst was hospitalized with tuberculosis.

Haney placed Wise and Cottier on the traveling squad, one of two equal Brave training units.

Other exhibition openers today were Cincinnati vs. Chicago White Sox at Tampa, Philadelphia vs. Los Angeles at Sarasota, St.Louis vs. New York at St. Petersburg, Chicago Cubs vs. Boston at Mesa, San Francisco vs. Cleveland at Tucson, Baltimore vs. Kansas City at West Palm Beach and Detroit vs. Washington at Orlando.

Revenue From Stamps

Great Britain's lonely St. Helena Island, in the South Atlantic Ocean, has nearly 5,000 inhabitants on its 47-square-mile area. The island has no internal mail service, but a large part of its revenue is derived from sale of its postage stamps to collectors.

Washington is larger than any state east of the Mississippi River.

Port Jervis Wins, 53-39, Over Monties

Port Jervis, playing without Bill Pepper, rallied in the third and fourth periods to trim Monticello, 53-39, and clinch first place in the Village DUSO Basketball League. The playoff tilt took place last night at the Fallsburgh High School gym.

Though Pepper, the high scoring ace for the Porters was sidelined, the starting five of Wayne Ranich, Hugh Spangenberg, Harry Boyd, Tom Coleman and Ted Perkowski went the distance. Boyd led with 23 points and Ranich added 18. The Monties used six players and Bob Stratton was high scorer with nine points.

Port Jervis will now represent the DUSO League as the number one team in the Section Nine Class B tournament while the Monties will be the number two club.

The boxscore:

Port Jervis (53)

	FG	FP	TP
Ranich	9	0	18
Spangenberg	1	1	3
Boyd	9	5	23

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE SALE OF GOODS, WARES AND MERCHANDISE, OTHER THAN IN THE REGULAR COURSE OF BUSINESS.

THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, does hereby ordain and enact as follows:

Section 1. No person, firm or corporation shall hereafter offer for sale or conduct any sale of goods, wares and merchandise in the City of Kingston as an insurance, bankrupt's, railway wreck, insolvent's, syndicate's, assignee's, trustee's, estates, executor's, administrator's, receiver's, wholesale, manufacturer's job lot, closing out, smoke, fire, water or similar damage sale, excepting in cases where all of the goods so offered for sale were part of the regular stock of goods of such person, firm or corporation, unless a license to hold such sale is first obtained under the provisions of the ordinance.

Section 2. Where such goods so offered for sale, or any part thereof, are not the regular stock of goods of such person, firm or corporation, it shall be unlawful to hold such sales unless such person, firm or corporation shall and at all times during the sale have posted in the conspicuous place where such sale is being held or intended to be held, a statement which shall show the name or names of the persons from whom such additional stock of goods has been secured, the date or dates of the procurement thereof, the places the goods were secured from, and then follow such date or dates with a statement of what goods have been so procured from each person, giving place and date of each purchase. Size of statement should be at least 11"x 18". This statement should be posted at a prominent place in the front of the store, not behind any cases or merchandise and also in the front, on front of window. Such person, firm or corporation shall also state in any announcement or advertisement of any kind of such sale all of the facts which are heretofore required to be included in such statement so to be posted on the premises where such sale is held or intended to be held, except that the list of goods procured may be omitted.

Section 3. No licensee hereunder shall make any false representations either verbally or in the form of any book, notice, circular, pamphlet, letter, handbill, poster, bill, sign, placard, card, label, tag, advertisement or announcement of any sort as to the character, quality, condition, value, or ownership of any property offered for sale, or by any guise, method or manner seek to persuade or hold out to a prospective customer or to the public generally that the goods which are being offered for sale are the regular stock of goods of the person holding the sale, if in truth and in fact they are not so. In all such cases the true name of the person holding such sale or benefiting thereby shall fully appear. The description, "regular stock of goods," is intended to and shall mean the stock of goods which a merchant has normally on hand in the regular course of his business prior to becoming bankrupt, making assignment or being classified under any of the captions, titles or designations set forth in Section 1 hereof and does not include any goods which were purchased prior or subsequent to such happenings or events for the purpose of augmenting such stock of goods for such sale. All goods which are added to such regular stock shall be plainly tagged and marked "not part of regular stock," and such tags are to be of a color different from that used on the regular stock. This section does not apply in any manner to the sale of goods, wares and merchandise in the regular course of business of any merchant other than a transient merchant, nor to regular, orderly, seasonal or inventory sales of such merchants. It shall not apply to sales of goods in bulk, but shall apply to a resale of such stock of goods. A stock of goods of a person doing business as a transient merchant, as such merchant is defined and described in Section 85-A of the General Municipal Law of the State of New York, who has a regular stock of goods which is not, or is not to be disposed of as a "closing out," "distress" or "damage" sale, or similar sale regardless of the name used shall not be required to procure a license hereunder. A transient merchant who does not have a regular stock of goods or who intends to or does dispose of goods, wares and merchandise as a "closing out," "distress" or "damage" sale or similar sale, regardless of the name used, shall be required to secure a license hereunder and to comply with all provisions of this ordinance. Transient merchant should never be permitted to operate a licensed sale in Kingston more than once every twelve months.

Section 4. All sales shall be held in the premises described in the license application and licenses shall not be assignable or transferable in any manner.

Section 5. Licenses shall be limited to a period not exceeding 30 days with reference to each particular stock of goods.

Section 6. In the event a licensee shall add to the list of goods described in this application for license, licensee shall, within 24 hours after making such addition or additions, report same to the City Clerk in the same form and detail as in the original application for license. A copy of such reports shall be posted with the original statement referred to in Section 2 hereof.

Section 7. Application for license shall be made in writing at the office of the City Clerk, giving all of the information required herein, to be stated in the notice which is required by said ordinance to be posted in the premises where such sale is to be held and giving such other and further information as the City Clerk may properly require.

Section 8. A license fee of One hundred and 00/100 ($100.00) Dollars shall be paid to and collected by the City Clerk of the City of Kingston.

Section 9. Any violation of or failure to comply with any provision of this ordinance shall constitute a misdemeanor, and upon conviction therefor, the violator thereof shall be fined the sum of One hundred and 00/100 ($100.00) Dollars and such license shall thereupon be revoked. Each day such a sale is conducted without the required license, and each violation of or failure to comply with any provision of this section, shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 10. This ordinance is not applicable to concerns holding Public Service Commission franchises.

Section 11. If any subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or void, such decision shall not effect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance.

Section 12. This ordinance to take effect immediately.

Musical Comedy Star Dead at 85

FRED STONE

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Fred Stone, whose nimble song and dance acts and amazing acrobatics delighted musical comedy audiences for decades, is dead at 85.

The veteran of 50 years on stage and screen died Friday at his home from a complication of ailments. A heart attack about two years ago was soon followed by total blindness.

Stone's sight had been failing for five or six years, the delayed effect of injuries suffered in a 1927 plane crash.

He was flying solo between his Connecticut farm and rehearsals for a Broadway show when he crashed. Both legs were broken, an ankle crushed, his jaw broken. His friend, Will Rogers, flew from Hollywood to replace him in the show, "Three Cheers."

A barber's son, born in Valmont, Colo., Fred started as a circus acrobat and worked in medicine and minstrel shows before teaming up with Dave Montgomery in 1895 to form a song and dance act.

Glenmount Retreat To Be Held May 22-24

Harold V. O'Connor, local promoter of the Kingston Area Retreat Group, announced today that the retreat date for the current year has been set for the weekend of May 22 to 24.

This will be the ninth annual retreat sponsored by the local group. Each year this activity is held at the Jesuit Retreat House in Glenmount, Albany County. Mr. OConnor states that this beautiful 50-acre estate, with facilities dedicated to laymen's retreats exclusively, provides a very restful atmosphere for those who attend and gives them an excellent opportunity to reflect on the purpose of living.

He further states that at a weekend retreat you learn to bring order into your life and to make forthright decisions putting first thing first. You are helped to adjust yourself to the role of circumstances of your life, which have been created for you. The guidance and friendly counsel of trained spiritual directors are available and through humble prayer you obtain special Divine assistance in solving your personal and family problems.

Further information and reservations may be obtained from the following members of the group: Ralph Carpino, Peter Matthews, Benedict Todaro, Roland A. Augustine, Robert Kershaw, Dr. Vincent Amatrano, Dr. Anthony Mauceri, Thomas K. O'Reilly, Francis Dolan, Dr. William Harris and Dr. Eugene Galvin.

Retired Man, Dog Asphyxiated by Fire

HORNELL, N. Y. (AP)—A retired machinist and his dog were asphyxiated and 11 persons were made homeless when fire swept their five-unit apartment building Friday night.

The victim was Samuel Porter, 88, a former railroad machine worker.

Dr. Richard Travis, Steuben County coroner, said Porter was sitting on his bed when a blast of hot air flashed through the second floor apartment.

Fire Chief Francis V. Kinnerney, who estimated the damage at more than $3,000, said the fire apparently started in a first-floor laundry room.

Week's Business

some indifferent.

The nation's steel mills, facing a strike deadline in July set a whirlwind pace. Production for the week was scheduled at a thumping 2,535,000 tons—the highest ever recorded.

Auto Output Moves Up

Auto production moved up another notch. The total — some 133,300 cars was up a solid 60 per cent from the same week last year when Detroit was slamming on the brakes.

Instalment buying of cars and appliances picked up in January. (Consumers lifted their total instalment indebtedness to about $33,700,000,000 in that month). But the pickup was a lot slower than some auto makers had hoped.

What's more, a consumer survey by the Federal Reserve Board and the University of Michigan survey research center this week found many Americans not yet in a mood to go on an auto buying binge.

Consumers are much more confident about business conditions than they were a year ago. But, the survey indicated, those whose credit is good are more interested in buying a new house (or a backyard swimming pool) than a new auto.

Department and chain stores had little fault to find with Mr. and Mrs. Consumer—department store sales for the last week in February topped the year ago week by 10 per cent despite one less selling day, and Sears, Roebuck & Co. reported record February sales of nearly 242½ million dollars. That's 16 per cent more than Sears took in during February last year.

What's happened to the old American virtue of thrift? That question was raised by Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) this week in a talk to the American Bankers Assn. School children are taught to save regularly, he said, but their elders are badly in need of thrift education, too. Said Case: "Too many families have fallen victim to a charge account economy."

Business in Brief

Briefly over the business scene: The Ford Foundation is keeping mum about reports that it may sell another big chunk of Ford Motor Co. stock to the public . . . Manufacturers' inventories rose in January for the first time since July . . . U.S. exports in January were down eight per cent from a year ago. . President Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange said fear of inflation was one of the chief reasons for last year's boom in stocks . . . The American Express Co. predicts that nearly 700,000 Americans will visit Europe this year — and that the average U. S. tourist will be "more knowledgeable and sophisticated" than his predecessor.

Pitcairn, who in 1941 published a book, "Today We Are Americans All," presented each of the group with a copy of the booklet. The booklet describes the numerous advantages which are open to all in this country and cites the accomplishments which have been achieved by numerous foreign born residents in America.

In his address to the newly received citizens, Pitcairn welcomed them and reminded them that, "some of us, and our forbears, have been American citizens a long time—others for less time—but originally we have all come from foreign lands."

"Many of our forbearers fled the hardships of religious intolerance, of economic oppression, or lack of opportunity. Here, under our clear skies, out of their own innate strength and integrity, they helped lay the foundations of American democracy, and developed some of history's greatest men and women," the speaker said.

Notes Opportunity

Pitcairn told them that many might not be destined to attain "the peaks of fame and of achievement," that their lives might "run in humbler channels" but in them also lie worth and opportunity. "There are in America many monuments built by the average workers that attest their contribution to the development of our country."

"The promise of America lies as much in the future as in the past. You have become citizens of a creative country—now in the present as in the past—building, not for self-interest alone, but for the benefit of all mankind. A nation and economy that is the best hope and prospect in all the world! That's why it's a proud and inspiring day on which you become U. S. citizens," Pitcairn said.

The great American principles apply to all citizens, and "they give you enduring assurance of your opportunity, your freedom and protection—yes and responsibility," he charged.

Just Asks Patriots

"For all these blessings America asks in return from all of us her sons and daughters, patriotism!—loyal, responsible patriotism. Patriotism that consists not in reading the Constitution, in waving the flag on public holidays, or in making patriotic utterances, but living patriotism — which consists in the daily performance of honest work for the benefit of our fellow citizens and our country," he advised the g

"If we would keep America s[illegible], we must be responsible competent citizens, willing and able to pull our own weight. Such were the men and women who founded our country and set it on its course," he said.

Freak Hands Take Thought

Written for NEA Service

East did not think much of his two card raise and when North bid five spades East decided to double him and hope for the best.

West liked the double. He was pretty sure that his king of spades would be a trick and South's redouble did not disturb him. East saw no place to go and decided to gamble on a profit against a certain loss.

East won the first trick with the ace of hearts and noted the fall of South's king. West had bid two on five hearts with a queen high suit. Obviously he had a really freakish hand to justify his bids even though he was not vulnerable. Could he be void of clubs? He could be.

East returned a club. West ruffed and shifted to his fourth best diamond. East's king forced South's ace and South went into a long huddle. Where was the king of spades? East had doubled but he would have been just as likely to double without it as with it. Also West was queen high in the red suits.

After all this celebration South decided to play West for the king. He laid down his ace, dropped it and made the hand.
